Looking forward to the IAAF Athletics Awards 2018

Thirty-two new champions were crowned at the recent IAAF Diamond League finals. Memories of the IAAF World Indoor Championships Birmingham 2018, IAAF World Half Marathon Championships Valencia 2018, IAAF World U20 Championships Tampere 2018 and IAAF World Race Walking Team Championships Taicang 2018 are still fresh, while the IAAF World Challenge, IAAF Combined Events Challenge, IAAF Hammer Throw Challenge and IAAF Race Walking Challenge have all recently concluded.

At the end of another spectacular season of athletics, the only accolades left to decide are the IAAF World Athletes of the Year. The voting process will be revealed in the coming weeks and the announcement of the winners will take place live on stage during a special ceremony in Monaco at the IAAF Athletics Awards 2018 on 4 December.

DOHA SHOWS IT IS READY TO REACH NEW HEIGHTS FOR 2019 IAAF WORLD ATHLETICS CHAMPIONSHIPS

With 365 days to go until the IAAF World Athletics Championships Doha 2019, hosts Qatar are ready to welcome the world of athletics and stage the biggest sporting event in the nation and region’s history. Organisers unveiled the completed stadium, showcased its state-of-the-art sustainable cooling system and revealed ticket options that will allow fans to watch the action in new ways.

For four days, the organising committee has taken the IAAF through their detailed plans and played host to team leaders and coaches from 30 nations, as they begin preparations for their athletes and teams to compete in the 17th IAAF World Athletics Championships. Full story
