Related Entities

12.2 Under Article 47.2v, Council has the power and responsibility for establishing and monitoring the performance of such bodies or entities as it considers appropriate to further the Purposes of the IAAF and in which the IAAF has an interest, on the recommendation of the Executive Board (referred to as "Related Entities").

PART 13 -BREACHES AND DISPUTES

13.1 This Part 13 sets out the procedure for any breach of these Rules and disputes.

Breaches

13.2 Any breach of these Rules amounts to a breach of the Integrity Code of Conduct and will accordingly be subject to investigation and prosecution by the Athletics Integrity Unit under the IAAF Athletics Integrity Unit Reporting, Investigation and Prosecution Rules (Non-Doping) and possible enforcement proceedings under the IAAF Disciplinary Tribunal Rules.

13.3 The President, a Council Member, an Executive Board Member or the Chief Executive Officer may refer any potential breach of these Rules for investigation by the Athletics Integrity Unit under the IAAF Athletics Integrity Unit Reporting, Investigation and Prosecution Rules (Non-Doping) and possible proceedings for breach pursuant to the IAAF Disciplinary Tribunal Rules.

Disputes

13.4 Any dispute arising between the IAAF and a Member, or an Applicable Person in connection with these Rules will be submitted to arbitration before the CAS, to the exclusion of any other court or forum. In particular, the validity, legality and/or proper interpretation or application of the Rules may only be challenged (a) by way of ordinary proceedings filed before the CAS; and/or (b) as part of an appeal to the CAS made pursuant to Rule 13.5 of these Rules.

13.5 An Applicable Person may appeal a final decision made by the Council under these Rules to the CAS, in accordance with this Rule, by filing a Statement of Appeal with the CAS and with the IAAF within thirty (30) days of the date of communication of the written reasons for the decision. The IAAF will be the respondent to the appeal.

13.6 The CAS will hear and determine the dispute or appeal definitively in accordance with the relevant provisions of the CAS Code of Sports-Related Arbitration, provided that in any appeal the athlete will have fifteen (15) days from the filing of the Statement of Appeal to file his Appeal Brief, and the IAAF will have thirty (30) days from its receipt of the Appeal Brief to file its Answer. The law governing the dispute or appeal will be the IAAF Constitution and the IAAF Rules, with the laws of Monaco applying subsidiarily. In the case of any conflict between any of the above instruments and the CAS Code then in force, the above instruments will take precedence. The proceedings before the CAS will be conducted in English, unless the parties agree otherwise. Pending determination of the dispute or appeal by the CAS, the Rules under challenge and/or the decision under appeal (as applicable) will remain in full force and effect unless the CAS orders otherwise.

13.7 The decision of the CAS determining the dispute or appeal will be final and binding on all parties. All parties waive irrevocably any right to any form of appeal, review or recourse by or in any court or judicial authority in respect of such decision, insofar as such waiver may be validly made.
