

Looking forward to the IAAF/BTC World Relays Bahamas 2017

Just as one IAAF World Athletics Series event concludes, attention already turns to the next one.

There is less than a month to go until the IAAF/BTC World Relays Bahamas 2017 when Nassau will once again welcome the world's top relay runners.

Nassau's 15,000-seater Thomas A Robinson Stadium will host the competition on 22-23 April and 10 relay events will be staged. The best men's and women's teams in the world will compete in the 4x100m, 4x200m, 4x400m, 4x800m and, new for the third edition, a mixed 4x400m which replaces the distance medley relay.

London, which will stage the IAAF World Championships from 4-13 August 2017, will play host to the 209th IAAF Council meeting on 12-13 April.
